Astronaut Scholar Candidate Pool for 2020-2021 Academic Year

Expectations and Data Guidance

- Liaisons coordinate with STEM faculty to solicit nominations for their institution's 2020 Astronaut Scholar nominations (internally reviewing a minimum of EIGHT nominees/candidates) during the nomination window.
- Liaisons then provide general information on the candidates within their internal pool (*de-identified and with no personally identifiable information**) of the [minimum] EIGHT students considered for this year's Astronaut Scholar selection process. This pool includes all students, to include the those students who are nominated to ASF).

One data sheet should be provided for each candidate considered.

The information requested below is not intended to identify any specific student that was considered for nomination. The information below is to statistically assess and characterize the pool of candidates.
